

The Unconstrained Power of God

By: Adam Burrell

Can you hear it?
The low rumble – like a river tumbling over dry rock, over parched dirt, carrying in its current the voice of the flame of the fire – like thunder cupping the lightning, an echo from that same power in the cloud which made of the sea solid ground, made a leather tent burn without burning down in the holiness of the holy
The Unconstrained power of God!

Listen to the sound of his voice – Can you hear its swelling, its pouring down – its unstoppable flow fully immersing anything – everyone who'll let him in.
That renovating voice riding the splendor of a spiritual waterfall crashing upon what we call reality with reality's very source,
The Unconstrained Power of God!

The unsealed breath of the Spirit who splits open our shut doors letting loose a power of which we've only heard roomer, breaking barriers with the force of heaven. We cannot- we must not sit here idly on these shores. O Hear!
Hear the unimpeded propulsion of our Lord!
The Unconstrained Power of God!

Can you see it?
His deliverance filling the atmosphere
With true repentance as if a sudden rush of steam is finally turning a long dormant turbine – a flood of electricity exploding the darkness with unfettered light which simply cannot be stopped
The Unconstrained Power of God

Beauty blooming into boldness, glory flashing in a wilderness of blaring waste a people thirsty to combat man's inhumanity to man with the perfection of the gospel – dying to feel what it means for the curtain to be torn down and God's presence to rush upon them Like the heat of an electric current.
The Unconstrained Power of God!

O let us answer
this call by the power of his Holy Spirit!
Let us let these walls fall down and let us delight in this heavenly vision, dream this glorious dream and then live these things out in his unconstrained power!
Can you hear it? Can you see it? Can you feel it?
The rushing current, the quaking electric force
The unimpeded, unstoppable, unconstrained Power of God!
